PATROLMEN BURY SLAIN COMRADE

The funeral of Robert F. Gushe, the patrolman who was shot down by an unidentified assailant Saturday night, was held with quasi-military ceremony today, over 100 members of the police department assisting at the last rites.

With their stars darkened by black crepe, the men marched from the funeral parlors in Thirteenth and Jefferson streets to Fourteenth street, past the city hall and the police station. At Nineteenth and Broadway, the police opened ranks, and with uncovered and bowed heads, permitted the funeral cortege of their dead comrade to pass between the ranks.

The dead patrolman was carried by a platoon of police and the pallbearers. Arrangements for the part in the funeral taken by the police were under the direction of Captain J. F. Lynch.

In the chapel of the James K. Taylor company, floral pieces were piled high around the casket. The casket was covered by blossoms. Floral pieces were sent by the various ranks in the police department, by the Central, Northern and Melrose stations, by the chief of police and by the many friends of the dead patrolman.

WOODS PAYS TRIBUTE.

The service was pronounced by the Rev. E. B. Lund, pastor of the First English Lutheran church. Dr. Lund told of Gushe's untimely death as a member of the police force, of his bravery, his fidelity to duty, his loyalty to his comrades. A tribute to the dead was paid by Chief of Police William F. Woods.

Interment was at Mountain View cemetery.

The pallbearers were Patrolmen Harry Orbell, Edward Frohn, John Mulhern, George D. Burbank, J. W. May, F. C. Schuler, Lieutenant Fred Schroeder and Sergeant Frank Ahrens were in charge of the following platoon of police, acting as a guard of honor: Sergeant Henry Nedderman, Patrolmen Trotter, Canine, Childers, Dunn, Keel, Huran, Merrick, Greenleaf, Schmidt, Sears, Peters, J. K. Petersen, Dolan, Garcia and Moore.

INQUEST IS HELD.

An inquest was held last night at the morgue into the manner in which Gushe came to his death. No new information was obtained. It was held by the coroner's jury that Gushe died from a gunshot wound through the heart inflicted by a man whose identity is unknown to the authorities. The witnesses questioned were Mrs. Vera Gushe, the young widow; Dr. E. V. Riffany, the autopsy surgeon; and three men who saw the shooting from a distance, Charles R. McKinnon, Charles Simon and John Schwab.

The mystery surrounding the slaying of the patrolman has not been cleared by the continued investigation of the detectives detailed on the case. Every attempt to trace the murderer to some known thug or vagabond has failed, and nothing has been learned that bears out the theory that a hold-up occurred on the night of the murder or that Patrolman Gushe attempted to halt a suspect.

Witnesses at the inquest told last night that they saw the patrolman and the man who killed him in conversation at the corner of Twelfth and Clay streets Saturday night, and that the shooting occurred within a few seconds of the time they had noticed the two talking. They were fifty or twenty feet away, and none of the witnesses heard a word of the conversation between the policeman and his slayer.

ARE IN DARK.

An investigation of the affairs of the policeman is being made to see whether he had any personal enemy who could have been responsible for his death, and to ascertain whether the murder was the result of a personal grudge. Captain of Inspectors W. J. Petersen refused to discuss this phase of the situation.

"We are in the dark about this murder," said Petersen. "We have nothing upon which to work that offers a satisfactory explanation of the mystery. I do not care to disclose the clues upon which we have been working, as it might interfere with the chances of success which are slim enough as they stand."

FIRE THREATENS GUESTS IN HOTEL

Many Prepare to Leave in Haste During Early Morning Blaze.

Many lives were endangered in an early morning fire in the old Hotel Metropole, now the Hotel Gable, at Thirteenth and Jefferson streets, today. Guests were roused from their slumbers and amidst considerable excitement, prepared to make a hurried exit in case the fire spread to the upper stories. The blaze, however, was confined to a small closet in the basement of the hotel.

The origin of the fire has given rise to conflicting statements. The police theory is that crossed wires were responsible. Mrs. M. Vandervoort, who recently took over the management of the hotel, states that in her opinion the spontaneous combustion of a pot of varnish placed in the closet last night by a workman was the cause.

Night Clerk William A. discovered the outbreak at 1:45 o'clock this morning when he went to investigate smoke, which found an outlet into the main lobby from rear stairs leading to the basement.

Notifying Mrs. Vandervoort and her family and turning in the alarm, Acre endeavored to check the flames that shot out from the closet and threatened to spread to other parts of the building. The fire department confined the fire to the closet and the damage was minimal.

Numbers of the guests slept unaware of threatening danger while others were roused by the noise of the firemen. Those who were aroused were quickly reassured of their safety.

SPEED WORK ON CHEMICAL PLANT

Within a month after the site at Pittsburg had been secured, the Western Electric Chemical company, the new industry organized by the Fleischacker banking interests, has three buildings completed and part of the plant is in operation. Work is now in such shape that the company is able to announce its intention of commencing manufacturing operations in July. Already a great part of the output of caustic soda, bleaching powder and chlorine products which will be made at the Pittsburg plant, has been sold for first year of manufacture.

No time has been lost in pushing work at the plant. There are now 300 men constantly employed and in addition to the completed buildings others are in advanced stages of completion and much of the heavy machinery is installed.

The plant is situated with shipping facilities on the three railroads running into Pittsburg with water terminal facilities, the use of which will be necessary for manufacture, sea water entering into the composition of the products to be manufactured. The plant will cover fifteen acres of ground and will give permanent employment to a hundred men the year through. G. D. Scheller Jr. will be superintendent of the electrolytic one and requires special machinery which, with the exception of some evaporators which have been ordered, has been supplied by Pacific Coast firms. The power, which, with the sea water, constitutes the chief raw material in use, is to be furnished by the Great Western Power Company, and the machinery and special apparatus is already on the ground.

The building and machinery will cost over half a million dollars before installation is complete and what will be added later will bring the total much higher.

The company is capitalized at $2,000,000. All the preferred stock was early subscribed. Mortimer Fleischacker is president; John P. Bush, vice-president; Arthur G. Lillienfeld secretary and the Anglo-California Trust Company treasurer.

JITNEYS COST CAR COMPANY $400,000

Big Loss Is Cited in Annual Report to Stockholders

Jitney competition cost the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway $400,000 in 1915, according to the annual report submitted to the stockholders' meeting yesterday. Beyond reception of the report no business was taken up and adjournment was made until April 6, when directors will be chosen.

The loss by Jitney competition, says General Manager W. H. Alberger in the annual report, is more serious when it is considered that the loss revenue was the profitable "short haul" revenue, leaving the expensive to operate and, in many cases, unremunerative, long-haul practically the only revenue of the Traction Division. Regulatory committee of the city of Oakland and Richmond, from the last month it was hoped, says the report, would limit this competition.

Never at any time in the history of the company, says the report, has its management been faced with so many perplexing conditions affecting its revenue, operating costs, and almost its very existence. Indications were that 1915 gross earnings would exceed any previous year, but in spite of glittering prospects, heavy additional investment in new ferry-boats and cars was decided against. The heavy expense year was passed, though not without a struggle. It did not bring expected crowds to cross bay cities and did not unduly crowd the streets with visitors. The company's direct Exposition ferry was, however, a great success, a convenience and a credit to the company, landing 1,215,557 passengers to and from the Exposition without a single accident and with but one slight delay in traffic.

EARNINGS FOR YEAR.

Earnings of the company during 1915 are thus given:

Gross operating revenue	$4,440,783.74
Operating expenses	$3,041,381.01
Net operating revenue	$1,400,402.73
Non-operating revenue	$6,724.54
Net revenue	$1,407,127.27
Taxes and licenses	$258,379.35
Interest, etc.	$1,330,615.43
Net income	$110,137.49
Less:
Sinking fund payments	$5,130.00
Expenditures for additions and betterments	$39,821.63
Expenditures in excess of earnings	$44,681.53
The gross earnings for the year	$4,440,783.74
Amount included in 1916 representing receipts of the direct Exposition service	$1,407,127.27
The losses through the operation	$3,041,381.01

Adjustments of bookkeeping charges in 1915, for which there were no similar charges in 1914, to comply with rulings by the Railroad Commission, amount to $81,734.65.

With these considered, operating expenses for 1915 are nearly $200,000 less than for 1914, notwithstanding $116,451.00 cost of direct Exposition service, exclusive of absorption of this cost and an actual decrease in expenses secured.

Maintenance of way and structures during the year cost $27,281.37, of which $62 was for paving. Other items of expenditure were: Electrical department, $57,755.65; maintenance of equipment, $446,105.26; maintenance of railway equipment, $299,534.06; maintenance of ferry equipment, $147,571.19; power, $451,062.23; conducting transportation, which includes wages, $1,528,466.58; traffic expenses, $38,501.58; general and miscellaneous expenses, $282,292.70; taxes, $550,319.35.

LITTLE NEW WORK.

Additions and betterments amounted to $639,524.15, which include reconstruction work. Very little new work was done during the year, no funds being available. The only additional track was the Grand avenue line into Nova Piedmont, 1.51 miles of single track, funds for which were advanced by the realty company interested.

Work outlined for 1916 is similar in character, consisting of necessary reconstruction and paving to meet city requirements. Permanent work is to be done as far as funds allow.

Gross earnings for 1916 Alberger anticipates should be greater than 1915, notwithstanding the Exposition earnings assuming the basis for February of this year to be a fair one. In that month earnings on traction lines increased $28,735.57, while key lines decreased $16,451.00, a net increase of $12,284.57. This increase is notwithstanding that February, 1915, earnings included $11,520.30 Exposition receipts. With Jitney competition eliminated he expects to show very substantial increase.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN IN ROW VAN WYCK CENSURED BY CLUB PROXY CAUSES REVOLT IN RANKS

No member of the Women's State Democratic Club of California has ever been heard to mention the historic political term "double-cross."

But—

Sidney M. Van Wyck is accused, in more polite language, of working it with a cold and unfeeling heart to the utter rout of Mrs. Virginia Spinks, club woman, Democratic leader, and president of the W. S. D. C.

What Van Wyck did at last week's session of state Democrats, when state delegates to the national convention were nominated, is summed up by Mrs. Spinks thus:

"Mr. Van Wyck went entirely too far."

ONE VOICE WAS NEEDED.

What Mr. Van Wyck actually did was this: Holding the proxy of Mrs. James Ellis Tucker, who had given it to him with the qualifying instruction that it be used by him in behalf of a woman national delegate, he voted it, with nine others, in behalf of J. M. Fitzgerald and W. W. Bunker of this, the Sixth Congressional District. That he used it with majorities evidenced, say the women, by the fact that the vote which defeated Mrs. Spinks was 15 to 13.

Simple mathematics clearly indicate that if Mrs. Tucker's instructions had been followed the vote between Fitzgerald and Bunker and Mrs. Spinks would have been 14 to 14, and chairmanship would have prompted the balance of the day's program.

Mrs. Spinks does not place full responsibility upon the Van Wyck shoulders. The nominating committee from the Sixth District was composed of John McDonald, George Best of Livermore and H. H. McPike, and while her name was discussed openly as a possible committee nominee, the committee offered Bunker and Fitzgerald, per program.

But the feminist movement within the party refused to swallow the program and Mrs. Spinks' name was offered from the floor of the convention.

THE PROXY IS USED.

"Then, it is alleged, the local committee turned its eyes on the Van Wyck proxy. What happened was reviewed yesterday in a long resolution adopted by the Women's State Democratic Club, of which Mrs. Spinks is president, the effect of which is to declare that by the misuse of the proxy the entire Democratic delegation has been illegally nominated.

And yet, Mrs. Spinks did not say anything about the "double-cross."

Declaring the vote to have been illegal, the resolution says:

"Resolved, That the Women's State Democratic Club of California maintains that the vote of Mrs. James Ellis Tucker should be counted for Mrs. Virginia M. Spinks—thus making a tie vote, 14 to 14, and said club bitterly and justly resents the unfair tactics used by Sidney M. Van Wyck. It is therefore:

"Further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be sent to Sidney M. Van Wyck, James D. Bhehan, to all Democratic affiliated organizations in California, to all members of the Democratic State Central Committee, and to all the newspapers in California; also that the copy of above resolution be spread upon the minutes of this organization, and its original placed in the club history."

Five Hours' Deliberation Not Enough to Secure Verdict.

After a month's trial, the case of D. D. Griffiths, civil engineer, against the Central National Bank to recover $7000 alleged to have been paid on checks forged by Mrs. Myrtle Hall, ended in a disagreement of the jury late last night, following five hours of deliberation.

Superior Judge W. H. Donahue discharged the jury and as yet it has not been announced whether there will be a new trial or not. The jury stood six to six at 11 o'clock and then asked Judge Donahue for additional instructions. The final vote stood 5 to 4 in favor of the defendant.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE SAYS AUTHORITY

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts.

Omit All Meat From Diet if You Feel Rheumatic or Bladder Bothers.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

Sue to Recover Keith Portrait of Mrs. Wakefield

SAN FRANCISCO, March 8.—The recovery of a large oil painting of Mrs. Franklin W. Wakefield, former wife of "Jack" Sprague, entitled, "Portrait of a Lady," which was among the effects of the late John M. Keith, millionaire oil operator, is the subject of a suit filed yesterday in the justice court by Mrs. J. M. Keith, executor of the Keith estate, named defendant in the action, and Wakefield, who is present owner of the picture by gift from his wife.

Keith, who died at the St. Francis Hotel in April, 1914, left a bequest of $50,000 to the then Mrs. Jack Sprague, for whom he has shown a warm regard as a friend during his lifetime.

The complaint filed yesterday does not explain how the painting came into the possession of Keith, nor why nearly two years were allowed to elapse before an effort was made to get it.

According to Sydney Schlesinger, attorney for Keith, the painting for which Wakefield brought suit is a portrait of Mrs. Wakefield's head. Mack did not remember the name of the artist, Schlesinger said, and the portrait is now packed away in a warehouse with other bits of the late oil magnate's belongings.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS.

EUGENIE.—The eye exercises you asked for I am giving here:

1. Hold a pencil at arm's length. Draw it slowly up to the bridge of the nose, looking closely at it all the time. Do this ten times.

2. Raise your eyes as high as you can as if looking at the ceiling. Then, look down at the floor, crossing the bridge of the nose, looking closely at it all the time. Do this ten times.

3. Look as far to the right as you can on a direct line with the eye. Then move the eye from right to left in the same way. Do not strain the eyes.

These exercises should be taken in the morning only and without facing the light. After the eyes become stronger, which takes about a week, the exercises may be done night and morning.

A READER, Lansing, Ill.—Your circulation may be bad. Take plenty of outdoor exercise and drink quantities of water—three pints at least between meals. The red condition of the skin may be corrected by applying a lotion made of fifteen grains of tannic acid added to five ounces of camphor water. Use several times during the day.

or it will become lifeless and hard. I have found the following a splendid restorative for large pores: One ounce of eau de cologne, one-half ounce of tincture of benzoin, one ounce of peroxide of hydrogen, one teaspoonful of pure borax and enough rose water to make a pint. Apply after washing. Be careful not to get the mixture on the hair or eyebrows, as it is a bleach as well as an astringent.

Once the pores are kept clean they remove their normal function of ridging the skin of the waste matter which seeks egress in unsightly pimples and blackheads.

Railroads Ask U. S. to Investigate Wages

NEW YORK, March 8.—Daniel W. Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, in a statement made public today, urged an immediate congressional investigation of the situation created by the demands of the four railroad brotherhoods for an eight-hour day and time and a half for overtime, provided the brotherhoods refuse to arbitrate. Willard, who has acted as spokesman for the eastern railroads in many cases of public importance, said:

"Undoubtedly the public is interested in the right of train crews to fair, even good, rates of pay, and suitable working conditions. If it should develop on investigation that these men are not well paid considering the nature and circumstances of their service, they should have their wages increased."

ORDERS LEVEE BUILT.

SACRAMENTO, March 8.—The state reclamation board yesterday ordered the construction of the levee along the east side of the Sutter by-pass, taking this action as the result of the recent court order handed down by Judge Emmet Seawell in the case of the property-owners of Sutter county against reclamation district 15th. This levee is twenty-two miles in length, extending from the Feather river to the mouth of Butte slough, and, with such additional work as the construction of the levee will entail, will bring the total cost to between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000.

MACHINISTS STRIKE.

FRANKLIN, Pa., March 8.—Machinists employed at the plants of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company, the Colburn Machine Tool Company and the Producers Supply Company here are on a strike. The men demand the reinstatement of several discharged men, an increase of 20 per cent in wages, an eight-hour day and better shop conditions. The plants employ 700 men, but so far only about 200 are affected.

RECOVERS HEALTH IN RECORD TIME

Buffalo Business Man Recovers Health From Plant Juice and Is Happy.

A great specialist at one time said: "Stomach trouble is the curse of the American people." Nine out of every ten people who meet suffer from stomach trouble in some form. A chain is only as strong as its weakest link and the weak link with us seems to be the stomach. In other words, you cannot be a well-man or woman with a diseased stomach. Plant Juice, the new herbal system tonic, manufactured from medicinal herbs and fruits, is meeting with great success as a remedy for the ills of the stomach. It often relieves indigestion and dyspepsia with the first few doses.

Following is the signed testimonial of Mr. M. C. Folger, who resides at 24 Victoria avenue, Buffalo, N. Y. He says:

"I had stomach trouble, nervousness and indigestion for some time. My food would ferment in my stomach, causing gases to form and I was more or less bloated. I was very nervous and restless and could not sleep at night. I had tried different kinds of medicine but nothing seemed to help me. I had read in the paper about Plant Juice and the cures that were being effected by its use and I decided to try it. I have up to the present time taken three bottles and am feeling fine. In fact, can say that I am entirely cured, and I will give all praise to Plant Juice."

Plant Juice is sold in all Owl drug stores.—Advertisement.

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully. If you want to keep your hair looking its best, most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulled coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulled coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

HONEYMOON IN TURKEY HOUSE?

CAUSES SUIT FOR DIVORCE OFFERED PAY FOR HER GIFTS!

Honey-mooning in a two-room cabin in the wilds of Mendocino county 25 miles from a railroad and forced to share her rough abode with 300 young turkeys for weeks at a time and keep the pigs out of unfenced garden plots, besides quarreling with her neighbors and her husband, was a strenuous life. Helen M. Hawthorne, who has filed suit for divorce from Francis A. Hawthorne, mountain rancher.

Mrs. Hawthorne says that the cabin was a novel, drafty, unclean, and that the "pigs" of the young turkeys kept her awake at night and "almost drove her insane."

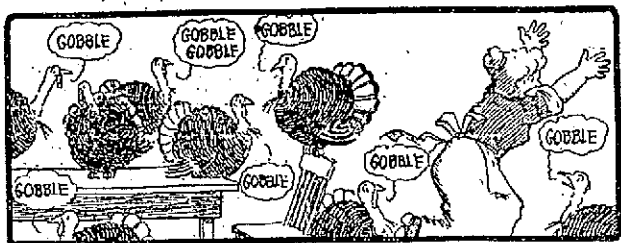

When plowing time came the wife was expected to sit on the plow beam in order to weigh the share into the earth while her husband handled the plow, she says.

When she refused he took his spite out on the horses.

Leath Mrs. Hawthorne came to Oakland for medical treatment and at Christmas time she sent her husband a Christmas card and other gifts.

"He sent back all but the raincoat and asked me to bring it back, saying he would pay me for it," she retorted.

WHY DISAGREE?
Robert J. McJunkin, in a complaint for

During the day she spent her time herding the pigs out of the garden only at night time to be turned by her husband, she says, for not protecting their property.

"You don't take any interest in the place," he is alleged to have told her, and also said that if she didn't like it she knew what she could do.

DOGS AFTER PIGS.
Once the lonely bride set the dogs on a neighbor's pigs with the result that the neighbor complained that his pigs had been "chewed up." She told him that he should keep them away and then her husband became angry at her for quarreling.

After the birth of her first child the plaintiff alleges, she was forced to ride over a mountain trail for many miles from the nearest town, where she had been in a hospital.

When a heavy batch of young turkeys arrived and were kept in the cabin, she says that her husband kept a fire going in an open hearth all night, nearly asphyxiating her and that when one of the turkeys fell off his perch at night, he would get up and "bang them about, saying, 'will you stay there, will you stay there?'"

Hillgass avenue, Berkeley, who was sued for divorce late yesterday, returned to his home last night and announced that he had become reconciled with his wife, Elizabeth R. Lee.

"The divorce suit will be dismissed," Lee said. "My wife made a mistake. I was away from home at the time, but everything is all right now."

Mrs. Lee accused her husband of having been intimate with a woman by the name of Lucille, who came here from Kansas City and lived in an Oakland apartment house. In her suit, she asked for $150 a month, custody of her minor daughter and the $5000 family residence.

INFIRMARY HEARING SET FOR TOMORROW

Hynes Calls Architect and Others to Discuss Charges.

With engineers and building experts, who have been looking over the ground, as advised by District Attorney W. H. Hynes, tomorrow will probe the charges of faulty construction and inefficient inspection and supervision at the County infirmary, when Charles P. Weeks, the architect and the Board of Supervisors will be questioned regarding the work on the building, and the charges of Tony Quintal, union labor leader, that the building is in a dangerous condition, stifled.

The session will take place in the office of the district attorney at 9:30 o'clock. The work will be gone over in detail. Quintal's exhibit of bent bolts and other alleged defective work will be looked into.

"I am seeking to protect the county," said Hynes, "and if I find that the work is wrong I will tie up some of the money."

Dr. C. A. Wills, superintendent of the infirmary, was asked by Hynes to be present and to give his opinion as to the work at the new structure. It is probable that several of the inspectors and engineers will also be called.

Treadwell Funeral Will Be Tomorrow

Under the auspices of the Masonic order, funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Scotland Rite cathedral, for James Treadwell, the noted mining expert and millionaire, who died Monday on a Key Route ferryboat. The ceremonies will be under the direction of Maurice Stewart, worshipful master of Getsemane chapter, No. 2, Knights of the Rose Croix.

Treadwell, a pioneer of California and famous as one of the first of the big Alaskan mining men, was for many years in active business and a power in California mining and financial circles. He and his brother, John Treadwell, discovered the famous Nevada Treadwell mine, later sold to the Rothschilds, and also founded the Tesla Coal company in this county. He was a director of a number of financial institutions. For years he lived on his famous estate at the junction of Broadway and College avenue, one of the show places of Oakland.

Ask President to Open Power Show

An invitation will be sent in a few days to President Wilson to open the big Pacific Coast Motor Show, which will be held at the Oakland Auditorium from April 26 to May 6. He will be asked to open the exposition over the long distance telephone, a recognition by the committees in charge of the power show of the great progress made in the use of electricity. As a contrast to the modern miracle it is also planned to release a carrier pigeon from Washington, D. C., which is to carry a message of good will from the President.

All the spaces in the auditorium are already taken and with most of the manufacturers of motor power products of all kinds agreeing to exhibit, the exposition will be of the largest of the kind ever held in the West. In addition to the arena, the auditorium and buildings will be constructed to house the exhibits.

ABSENT-MINDED ABNER--You Can't Tire a Juxtaposition Either!

By WALT McDOUGALL

WALT McCREDIE ENTHUSIASTIC AT BEAVER CHANCES

Slugging Outfielders Will Sustain Club, Says Northern Magnate.

PORTLAND, Oregon, March 8.—When the Portland team leaves next Sunday for the spring training camp at Sacramento, Dave Gregg may not be among the best batters in the league.

Dave Gregg is on a contract, but if Southern and Harstad have their contracts by the time it is likely that McGredie will leave Dave at home.

SOMEBOODY GOES.

"I think Dave ought to develop this year," declared McGredie, "but I have too many ball players on the list now. Somebody will have to be sacrificed, and I don't know where else to hit."

If Gregg is not taken he undoubtedly will be transferred to some Northwest-league club.

No further word was received today by the Portland baseball magnate from their holdouts or assigned number, Southworth, Spence, and Quinn are the boys who want more money than is offered, and no word has been received from Nixon, White and Lazar.

OPTIMISTIC.

"We have the greatest outfield and the best hitting team in the entire league. If our pitchers keep up, good night."

That is what Walter McGredie thinks of his ball club, and furthermore, if it was announced in the San Francisco ball park, it wouldn't lose a game a week, he said today.

For the first time in several years, McGredie is exuberant over the outlook over a team that is made up of players who are going to be in the line-up.

He believes that in Southworth, Nixon and White he has the greatest minor league outfield in captivity, being by far the finest in the Pacific Coast League. He thinks Nixon will hit at least .320 in this league, while White and Southworth are expected to hit just as well. If they keep up around .300, McGredie says they will hold the club up in the race.

SLUGGERS.

Mac figures also, that he has the best hitting outfield in the league, counting Ketcher and Haworth. He looks for Stump to have a batting average of .300, and says that he will be out last year among shortstops only by Corbin and Orr, and then by a few points, will be the greatest of the circuit. It all depends upon the pitchers, says Mac.

READ THE TRIBUNE FOR DAILY CAMP

The TRIBUNE is the first paper on the coast to have a "war correspondent" at the front.

Charles W. Perkins Jr., is the baseball sharp already at Boyes Springs welcoming the Oaks as they come struggling in. Perkins has been at the Boyes Springs training resort for three seasons and is thoroughly familiar with all the details of the Oaks' spring camp. Daily dispatches will tell all the TRIBUNE readers the very latest news concerning the ball players.

The TRIBUNE will also have its own correspondent, Merle Gray, at the San Jose camp of the Seals, and will receive exclusive information daily concerning the San Francisco club.

The staff at Boyes Springs will be enlarged as soon as the training season officially opens Sunday.

ELMER ZACHER WILL REMAIN IN EAST

Elmer Zacher has refused to play with the Salt Lake Bees this season, or with any other Coast league club, because of his threat to quit baseball rather than come back to a position in the league.

Zacher has quit Manager Cliff Blankenship's position to go ahead and make a deal for himself with some Eastern club, according to the contents of a letter received by the Salt Lake Bees.

A report came out of Salt Lake some time ago that Blankenship had announced the release of Zacher. Doc White, hearing this, wired the blonde fellow in an effort to secure him for the Grizzlies.

Zacher wired back that he was still in the hands of the Bees, despite the report, and because of this could make no deal with White. The wire released from him explains the wire.

Zacher writes: "I have received my 1916 contract from Salt Lake and am not a free agent."

"Though I like the coast, and have always been treated well out there, I find it impossible to play there again. The expense of taking my family back and forth each year is too heavy, and I have a ranch here in the East that demands my attention."

"I let Blankenship know that I would not consider playing on the coast or in the East. I think I will be able to close with a club in a few days."

'HUSK' WORRIED OVER LEFT-HANDERS

Learning from Phil Koerner that Polly McLarry, infielder secured by the Angels from the Cubs, was a left-hand hitter, Frank Chance is a little worried over the hitting strength of his club.

"I thought that McLarry was a right-batter," said the Angels boss today, "and upon learning that he is a left-hander, my plans about the infield."

"Too many left-handed batters on a club make it difficult to play," McLarry said. "Every one of our outfielders is on the left side, but I'm fortunate that those men can hit southpaw pitching."

Many clubs have been weak with the stick on account of too many left-hand batters. The Vernon Club has year after year suffered for this reason. Every series that the Tigers played the opposing club worked their left-handers twice in the week.

STOVALL SIGNED BY BRESNAHAN

TOLEDO, March 8.—George Stovall, last year's manager of the Kansas City Royals, has been signed by Roger Bresnahan, owner of the Toledo American.

Stovall will play first base. He is also under contract to the St. Louis Cardinals, but he is expected to play for Bresnahan.

Stovall is a right-hander, 34 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs 175 pounds. He has played for the St. Louis Cardinals, the New York Yankees, and the Boston Braves.

DOZEN HUSKIES WORKING OUT AT THE SPRINGS

First Division of Oaks Highly Pleased With Their Accommodations.

(Special to The TRIBUNE.)

BOYES SPRINGS, March 7. The training season for the Oaks has practically started, for there are a dozen huskies camped here and almost every train brings at least one new arrival. The ideal weather of the last two days has put everyone in good spirits, and the little settlement is all ready to uncork enthusiasm in behalf of the Oakland ball club.

Elliott got here yesterday, and today he was out in his uniform catching the clanks of Hill Pough and Dutch Klawitter. These two big catchers are in magnificent shape, and "Rowdy" has difficulty in keeping them from cutting the ball loose and making a row with the outfielders.

Put Calhoun, the northern southpaw recruit, and R. Kallio, the Portland right-hander, whom the club picked up as a free agent.

Rube Gardner, as lively as a cricket, is practicing boosting the ball over the fence. He astonished the natives yesterday by demolishing a section of the right field fence with a terrific drive, the hardest ever seen here, since Ping Bodie's days.

Anthony Weed, Cal Brink's young pitcher, "And," showed up today, and like a rangy kid, with a lot of confidence. Ray Boyd has been delighting the natives with his pitching.

Quite a delegation is expected to-morrow and Friday. The bunch is delighted with the accommodations here.

MAIER CALLS OFF HIS DEAL WITH FLICK

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—Prosy Maier of the Vernon club today called off the deal with Birmingham, in the Southern league, for Second Baseman Flick.

Birmingham demanded what Maier deemed an exorbitant price for Flick and no compromise could be reached. The effort to work Billy Purcell in on a trade failed.

The Tiger bosses are not satisfied with their second base material, and are working on a deal for another second baseman. Flick, neither Maier nor Patterson would say.

Flick absolutely refuses to report to Birmingham, and declared today he would leave the club and accept the position offered him by the Miami independent club.

Bill Goodman, who is to manage the Miami club, has been in conference with Flick frequently. Though Goodman has admitted today that the deal practically is closed, as soon as terms can be agreed on he will sign.

WESTERGAARD AND VISSER WINNERS

Jess Westergaard defeated Nick Daviscourt in two straight falls last night at Dreamland rink in one of the most interesting contests that has been staged recently. Daviscourt was no match for his husk opponent. The first fall was registered in 14:27 with an arm lock and a scissor and crotch hold. Westergaard won the second fall and the match in 10:07 with a head scissor and arm lock. At the close Daviscourt put up practically no opposition.

Pete Visser beat Young Mahamout, a new importation with a heavy scissor and arm hold in 11:03. Mahamout had no chance against Visser, who won as he pleased.

In the curtain-raiser Paul Strehart threw Gene Rodgers in 6:08.

NELSON GETS DIVORCE

CHICAGO, March 8.—Battling Nelson, former lightweight champion, was granted a divorce today from Fay King, a Denver newspaper artist. The divorce was granted by the court in Chicago.

Nelson was charged by Nelson and his wife did not contest.

WILLS OUTFIGHTS LANGFORD

NEW YORK, March 8.—Harry Wills of New Orleans outfought Sam Langford of Boston in a fast ten-round bout here last night. Wills weighed 204 pounds and Langford 195.

BILLIARDS

NEW YORK, March 8.—Fifteen of the twenty-one games scheduled for the national amateur billiard championship have been decided and Edward W. Gardner of the Orion society of this city leads the field. Gardner has won the first three games of four games won. The final match, unless a tie should occur, will be played next Friday night. Following is the standing of the players:

Player	Won	Lost
E. W. Gardner	4	0
F. S. Appleby	3	1
M. D. Brown	3	1
Charles Haddon	2	2
Paul Appleby	2	2
J. F. Poggenburg	1	1
J. Klingler	1	1

This afternoon's action will meet E. T. Appleby and the night game will be between F. S. Appleby and M. D. Brown.

CHICAGO, March 8.—Playing his sixth and last game in the amateur billiard tournament here tonight, Jacob Klingler of Austria, holder of the European club "B" title, scored his only winning break. He defeated Francis S. Appleby, the Columbia university student, who a few weeks ago won the national class "B" championship. This also was the first defeat recorded against young Appleby, who was tied for the lead with the veteran player and former champion, Edward W. Gardner. Gardner now leads the field with four games won and none lost.

The scores: Klingler, total 400, average 19, high run 57, 57, 50; Appleby, 364, 34, average 9-4-10, high run, 45, 27, 24.

Salvadore and Arrousey Ready for Tonight's Gong

Sally Salvadore, Sacramento lightweight mixer, and Johnny Arrousey, are both ready for the gong which will send them off for their fourth round tangle in the festive bout of Tommy Simpson's West Oakland club here tonight. Much interest is centered in the re-appearance of the Sacramento whittling before the local fans.

It was a long time ago when Sally last displayed his wares here and though a few of the wisest ones believe that he has gone back a bit, he is not an uncommon belief that he still carries with him enough of the old time ability to "hit 'em and take 'em" to make any of the present batch of boys in his class go the limit to win.

In Arrousey, Salvadore will find a lad who will put him through a real test. Arrousey is as clever and scientific a boxer as any who have shown here since the days when Abe and was in his prime. With a lightning like left hand and a coolness under fire which has got him out of many a tight hole, Arrousey is easily the cleverest piece of boxing machinery in the local game right now.

There is little doubt that if Johnny passes a good right hand he would become a champion possibility.

Willie Byrne, Pete Tavis, Jimmy Ford, Jimmy Fox, Frankie Malone, Los Angeles have all been taken down the line in easy fashion by the Los Angeles boys. The latter two have since reversed matters. For a while, the fans were beginning to regard Arrousey as unbeatable and getting down to fighting today following a recommendation from the athletic advisory board.

The resumption of freshmen athletic contests with California will enable the present freshman class to meet the University of California first year men in basketball, baseball and track. Freshmen new recruits were not affected by the 1911 order and will continue as usual.

STANFORD 'BABES' GIVEN RIGHT TO MEET CALIFORNIA

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., March 8.—Stanford freshmen can compete with California freshmen in intercollegiate athletic contests as the result of action taken today by President Ray L. Wilbur in abolishing a limitation imposed in 1911 by the Stanford faculty.

The Stanford faculty in 1911 placed the ban on intercollegiate athletics for freshmen because, they decided, "freshmen ought to have a quiet interval between the excitement of high school and the excitement of college in which they can develop their proper relations with university affairs."

This stand was contrary to Dr. Wilbur's policy and he rescinded the 1911 ruling today following a recommendation from the athletic advisory board.

It became common, and at last the champions or aspirants for championship honors were forced back to their beds, street cars and garbage cans. A few are peddling coal. It was as rotten a sport as was ever devised and it is as dead as the six day walking match.

Few there are save the old time cranks and are the names of Jimmy Michaels, Eddie Bald, Earl Kiser, Major Taylor, Owen Kimbrell, Fred Titus (the one-time husband of Edna May), A. A. Zimmerman, "Locomotive" Murphy, or any of the great ones of the clunder path.

In their misty minds, with the odor of the grave about them, they lie in the cemetery of Has Been.

Then he to the ashes and may there be no resurrection day for them.

You will notice that I have placed the name of Jimmy Michael at the head of the list.

It belongs there, for Michael was the king of the cycling world and his death in November, 1904, perhaps was the first crash in the general destruction of cycling as a national pastime.

Michael died at sea and the body was forwarded to his mother at Wales. With it went professional wrestling, the game he had done more to make in this country than any other man.

In the heyday of cycling in this country, in fact, no racer was so popular

Reminiscences of a Veteran Sporting Editor

By MR. MULDOON.

Bicycling is another of the lost arts. Time was when bicycle racing on short circular tracks was considered a wonderful and exhilarating sport.

Barney Oldfield, now famous as a driver in the great automobile races, was a star in the days of bicycle riding and few there were who could beat him at that game.

Then to be a star cyclist was to be somebody. Now nobody cares a ray for cycling. It has been relegated to the attic in the big household of sport.

There it lies with a punctured tire and a rusting sprocket chain. Cycling never had a claim to being a sport in the real sense of the word.

I say this after careful consideration of the once weighty power that the L. A. W. wielded.

I remember, too, there was a time when wheels were as plentiful as the mud in the city water.

The man on the wheel was a crank on the subject till he became weary of it and the novelty wore off.

I have seen men on the street corners ready to fight over the matter of the Columbia, the Rambler, the Keating or the Crescent, single or double tire, with their hands on their hips and their eyes on the ground.

Then the riders who followed the circuit for a living became crooked in their work, and the element of chance was removed.

This is what attracted people to it in the first place.

It became common, and at last the champions or aspirants for championship honors were forced back to their beds, street cars and garbage cans. A few are peddling coal. It was as rotten a sport as was ever devised and it is as dead as the six day walking match.

Few there are save the old time cranks and are the names of Jimmy Michaels, Eddie Bald, Earl Kiser, Major Taylor, Owen Kimbrell, Fred Titus (the one-time husband of Edna May), A. A. Zimmerman, "Locomotive" Murphy, or any of the great ones of the clunder path.

BASKETBALL

Arnold "Red" Kemp, the star forward of the Olympic basketball team, is going to Chicago to take part in the national championships, which commence on March 15. He will depart tomorrow with Coach Frank in one of the most important games. At first Kemp did not think he could spare the time, but the champions best their first two games while on route East and it is feared he is needed to bring back the tide.

The University of California basketball team has notified St. Ignace that the game in the intercollegiate league, scheduled for Saturday night, cannot be played because of the emergency of California authorities considering the court season has been drawn out too long already. St. Ignace was anxious for the contest to be played as it gave them a chance to tie L. C. in the standing. If California forfeits the game, it will give St. Ignace a tie with three games won and three lost.

'Healthgrams' On Skin--Flashed to Thousands

One of Nature's signals is an unhealthy skin. It is a scientific fact that the skin indicates the condition of the blood and the blood is the building material for the body and all its vital parts. Unless the blood is nourished and kept rich and healthy, it will eventually react on the organs it feeds and reduce the individual to a pitiable condition. Little do people realize the physical ailments that drain away strength and vitality and that can be traced straight to the poor supply of blood. Pimples, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Carbuncles, Boils, Catarrh with its obnoxious results and the tendency to easily catch cold, Malaria and scores of other equally serious ailments, are all manifestations of bad blood. For over 50 years S. S. S. has been a mighty remedy for these disorders. Thousands of men and women have been relieved or actually cured by S. S. S. Many of them had spent years and hundreds of dollars for other remedies in a fruitless endeavor to regain health—a marvelous tribute to S. S. S. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and when taken into the stomach is absorbed by the blood, supplying certain elements which stimulate the action of the blood corpuscles and help them drive out impurities and build up the system. With such a tried and true medicine awaiting you at the closest drug store, will you go on suffering and looking badly when so many others similarly afflicted have turned to S. S. S. and found the meaning of perfect health. Our Medical Department will gladly advise you about your case without cost to you if you wish to avail yourself of this service. ## UPHELD BUT NOT ENDORSED.

The vote in the House yesterday on the Mc-Lemore resolution urging the president to issue to American citizens warning to not travel on armed merchant vessels was not as unanimously in support of the President as was hoped for. It was a weak endorsement, to say the least. One hundred and forty-two members voted against the President. The Democrats opposing the President numbered thirty-three and there were several Democrats absent and not voting.

Even in this showing the issue was somewhat confused, or at least several members availed themselves of the opportunity to confuse the public as to the motives of their votes. The final test vote was on the tabling of the resolution.
The President's champions urged this action on the ground that Congress must support the President in his foreign negotiations, that reports as to the disloyalty of Congress was embarassing the executive in conducting the nation's foreign affairs, and that the President should be left a free hand in diplomatic negotiations, any way. Congress, therefore, technically voted not to express itself on the merits of the question as to whether or not it should advise the President as to the armed ship controversy. The motion to table obscured the main purpose and intent of the McLemore resolution.

However, this evasive procedure was largely a matter of technicality. The members who favored warning citizens off armed merchantmen knew in the beginning they were taking a course contrary to the President's policy and that there was not the remotest possibility of getting such a resolution through without fullest debate of the charges of interfering with the President, of disloyalty, and of party treachery.

It is difficult, therefore, to give serious consideration to the claims of some members, such as Representatives Sherwood and Page, that they voted to table the resolution on ethical and academic grounds, but would have voted to warn Americans off armed merchantmen if that question had been before them. The only way to get that issue before the House was to keep the McLemore resolution alive.

The vote to table pretty closely indicates the number of members who are in favor of changing international law, revoking the legal rights of citizens and permitting the mandates of belligerents across the Atlantic to have full effect in the heart of America. The vote against the President was composed roughly of three elements—those who are seriously convinced that the physical character of submarines renders it urgent to disarm merchant vessels; of those uncompromisingly opposed to the President on any question, and of a composite group made up of those engaged in a party revolt against their official leader, those under the influence of propagandists and those who always have to be yanked out of their seats when the national anthem is played. For the first group we have fullest sympathy, for the second understanding, but for the third public opinion will demand a strict accounting in the future.

Negotiations of foreign questions may now proceed. The President may feel that his position has been strengthened, though not wholly vindicated. He ought to feel grateful to the Republicans. Democrats started the trouble for him, the Democratic majority failed him in his hour of greatest need and Republicans saved
the day for him. The deflections of his partisan supporters is serious.

THE KIND WE DID NOT WANT.

The country has not been raised to a high state of expectation over the appointment of Mr. Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, Ohio, to be secretary of war and successor to Mr. Lindley M. Garrison.
It is impossible ever to guess who President Wilson may have on his list of eligibles, but of all the men the ordinary citizens and observer would have considered available for this important office, Mr. Baker is the least qualified by training, temperament and previous employment.

Being mayor of an interior city and an ardent,
active advocate of peace at any price, a follower of all the fanciful propaganda for "universal peace," disarmament, and what not, is not a strong recommendation for a war secretary. Mr.

Baker's public experience, which probably will prove most useful to him in his new work, is that which he gained as private secretary to a former Postmaster-General. He knows all the rules of procedure and etiquette of cabinet life and will not be at a loss to perform the duties of agent of communications between the President and Congress and the public.

But the nation needed, and greatly desired, a different type of war secretary. It needed a man already pledged and devoted to the idea that adequate preparedness means preservation of the national peace, and that adequate preparedness requires big increases in our military forces, our coast defenses, our ammunition and ordnance supplies and all the auxiliaries of a well-equipped defensive army. It needed a man who had studied these questions and who could be relied upon to carry out in the most effective manner the policy of preparedness which public sentiment has overwhelmingly indorsed. It wanted a man who would lead in preparedness plans.

Instead the country is forced to accept as head of the defensive organization one who by his record must be expected to prove the very opposite sort of a man. We are given a peace propagandist, and "anti-militarist," a visionary ideal-ist, and for all we know he may be a Bryanite or a Fordite. With the head of the navy known to be a faker on the question of preparedness, and the head of the army, although his intentions are now unknown, suspected of being one of those pestiferous little-army advocates, President Wilson is not inspiring much confidence in the sincerity of his recent campaign utterances.

NAVAL PERSONNEL.

The question of naval personnel is to be thrashed out in Congress, though it is probable the personnel measure will not be completed in time to be considered along with the regular naval appropriations bill. There has always been a strong fight made on every personnel bill presented to Congress, and the present one will not under any circumstances prove an exception. It includes a provision for promotion of officers by selection, instead of according to priority of service, which subjects it to the same opposition encountered by the "Plucking Board," which has aroused enmity among the older naval officers, active and retired, and, through them, among the members of Congress.

The present bill was drafted by a board composed of Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy; Rear Admiral Victor Blue, chief of the bureau of navigation, and Rear Admiral David W. Taylor, chief of the bureau of construction and repair. With a view to meeting the persistent demands for economy, the board endeavored to cut appropriations necessary to carry it into effect during the first year and reduced the extra expense it will entail to about $300,000.
Secretary Daniels, however, evidently does not think this is mutilation enough, and he is holding up the bill. It has not yet been submitted to the naval affairs committee. He probably will emasculate it by a further reduction, done in the arbitrary manner in which he cut $12,000,000
out of the item for ammunition.

It is a matter of regret that this reform in the navy always lands on the shoals of organized personal opposition. Need for increase in personnel and for reorganization of the personnel was never so vital as it is now. If any part of the increases to the navy recommended by Secretary Daniels and President Wilson are adopted it will be useless to expect them to become really effective until some sort of personnel bill is also adopted. The question of a method of promotion other than priority is a delicate one for all Congressmen who have friends in the service and who take the complaints of these friends seriously. Older officers are almost hysterically afraid of every suggestion of "plucking," realizing that they may not be permitted to reach the rank possible under the priority rule before retirement. There is a deal of reason to their complaint, and, as to the present plucking board, charges from time to time have been made that favoritism was practiced.

But in this critical time why can't Congressmen turn a deaf ear to all representations based upon personal interest and selfishness? In creating a greater Navy it ought to be possible to select the ablest, most gifted and most energetic officers for command of the ships and fleet units.
If the priority system is blocking promotion, as it is, of the best equipped officers, then let us reach over the heads of senior ranks and seniors in the same rank and select the best material. It will work hardship on some officers of long and distinguished service, but highest naval efficiency is of far greater importance.

Statistics as to the number of automobiles that were licensed by the different States in 1915, as published in full in Sunday's TRIBUNE, are informing. California led the year before in cars per capita, but Iowa took the lead last year with 16, while California follows with 13. In totals, however, California leads Iowa, 163,801 to 139,- 808. Three States are ahead in number of cars registered—New York with 212,844, Ohio with 179,767 and Illinois with 182,290. The State with the lowest number is Nevada, with 217.
Little Rhode Island has 16,362, while big Texas has 90,000. All the Southern States are low in both totals and per capita. The total number of automobiles registered was 2,423,788.

THE SEVEN GOVERNORS.

A good deal of fun was poked at the "seven little governors" who early in 1912 precipitated the movement for Roosevelt which led to the schism at the national convention, but their part in that political revolution was a memorable one and their influence in initiating the revolt against the leaders of the Republican party was not by any means as laughable as most of the critics pretended. Their part in that struggle has been almost forgotten, however, and it has been recalled for the New York Herald to recall the seven to public notice by inquiring whether they now think that the salvation of the country depends upon another Roosevelt candidacy. It is significant of the drift of political opinion among the one-time Progressives that of the famous seven only three remain loyal to their 1912 choice, and one could not be reached. Of the others
one is for Hughes, one thinks a business man is needed and one preferred not to discuss the situation. Whether these proportions represent present views of former Progressives is one of the unknown elements in the political equation.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Oakland's Place as Library City

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Recently I have had occasion to look up some figures on libraries of California and was interested to compare those of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda, with some of the others in the state. Regarding the Oakland library it showed some interesting facts.

I am enclosing a table of the ten largest cities. From this you will see that, in respect to population, Oakland has the fewest books per citizen of any of the ten largest cities of the state. The figures are for the public libraries only and for the main libraries and not the branches. San Francisco is the lowest, but if one were to include her numerous other libraries, such as the Mechanics-Mercantile, etc., even she would be found considerably ahead of Oakland.

Now this is notwithstanding the fact that Oakland, with the single exception of Alameda (where, by the way, the library has done wonders) has the largest income tax per $100 of any of the ten cities. Two cities of the ten, far smaller than Oakland, have purchased many more books than she during the quarter ending December 31, 1915. (For which these figures are given in the California State Library report for January) and three others have purchased almost as many. So that, although Oakland's library is already proportionately limited in the number of its volumes, it is not even keeping pace in this regard with others.

In the cases of San Francisco and Los Angeles, with numerous private libraries and very large deposits in their branches, conditions are even more favorable than they appear in this table. With regard to Berkeley, this city possesses also the University of California library with more than 300,000 volumes, where anyone may go and read. With regard to Sacramento, a similar condition obtains, the state library having something like 160,000.

From users of the Oakland library I have heard once in a while: "Oh, I never can find anything there that I want. It seems sometimes like the random claim of a patron of the library who did not know how to find what he wanted. But the figures in this table, concrete as they are, seem to show such a condition really does exist.

The table which I referred to follows:

CITY	Population	Library Income per $100	Number of Volumes	Per Capita	Per $100	Per $100
San Francisco	448,502	$0.18	184,248	59,455	4235	85
Los Angeles	438,014	.04	260,452	223,642	8975	60
Oakland	183,002	.0646	67,795	68,340	965	36
Sacramento	62,727	.012	48,500	37,093	577	79
Berkeley	52,102	.08	57,940	50,986	1883	91

ADMIRAL KNIGHT'S TESTIMONY.

Admiral Knight, as the president of the War College and a member of the General Naval Board, speaks with the highest authority on matters relating to the enlargement of our sea defenses. His suggestion that a naval base on the island of Culebra is worth heading. This is one of the islands which came into our possession with Porto Rico. So far as is known, no plan to fortify it and establish a naval base there has hitherto been mentioned, yet it seems likely that the matter has been discussed in naval circles. The transformation of Culebra into one of the outlying defenses of the Panama Canal would make our possession of St. Thomas and the other Danish Islands unnecessary as a naval base, but it would not lessen the embarrassment that the cession of those islands to some other foreign power might cause.

Admiral Knight's testimony before the advice to the House Committee on Naval Affairs was novel in other respects. His beliefs we should stop building dreadnoughts for the present and put nearly all of the money we devote to naval enlargement into battle cruisers. He would like to have nine of these powerful and speedy warships built without delay, and eight scout cruisers as well. If the committee heeds his advice in this respect, the bill submitted to the House, after the lingering deliberations over it are finished, will differ materially from the program proposed by the Navy Department.
But Admiral Knight speaks from information, and his arguments are as sound
as any the committee has listened to.—

STRING-DRIED APPLE.

Editor W. O. Fuller of the Rockland
Courier-Gazette has just established two facts by the insertion in his newspaper of a small advertisement calling for some of the old-fashioned dried apples. Mr. Fuller got many responses proving the efficacy of his advertising medium and also that the dried apple of our ancestors, the home-cured, wizened
but appetizing kind, has not been completely crowded out of the stage by the extricated product of today. Having discovered that the dried apple of yesterday is still extant, Mr. Fuller dilates with the zeal of an epicure upon the saucy, pie and doughnuts that are added by the treatment of dried apple of a skilled hand and a mind that does not shrink from adequate application of sugar.—Brunswick Record.

THE HOME TOWN.

Some folks leave home for money
And some leave home for fame,
Some seek skies always sunny,
And some depart in shame.
I care not what the reason
Men travel east or west,
Or what the month or season
The home town is the best.
The home town is the glad town
Where something real abides,
'Tis not the money-mad town
That all its spirit hides.
Though strangers scoff and flout it
And even jeer its name
It has a charm about it
No other town can claim.

The home town skies seem bluer
Than skies that stretch away,
The home-town friends seem truer
And kinder through the day,
And whether glum or cheery
Light-hearted or depressed,
Or struggle-fit or weary
I like the home town best.
Let him who will go wander
To distant towns to live,
Of some things I am fonder
Than all they have to give.
The gold of distant places
Could not repay me quite
For those familiar faces
That keep the home town bright.

BIG 4TH IS PLANNED BY MERCHANTS

Exchange Starts Program and Invites Full Co-operation

National Birthday to Be Occasion of Real Celebration

Plans for the biggest Fourth of July celebration ever held on the Pacific coast, to eclipse even last year's big affair in Oakland, were started last night by the Merchants' Exchange. The celebration is to contain the features of last year's observance and other big features. It is probable that some real championship athletic contest will be staged to attract the attention of the entire country to the affair. The newly-formed High school cadets, who acted as guards last night at the athletic show at the Auditorium, will also take part in the celebration, and the Firemen's band, which last night for the first time proved its musical ability, will also take part in the celebration of the nation's birthday.

NEIGHBORS INVITED. As the first step in the plans for the celebration, President Harry Williams, at the meeting of the board of directors last night, ordered letters sent to all neighboring cities telling them of the plans for the celebration and asking their co-operation. The plan of the Exchange is to have the Fourth of July celebration participated in by Berkeley, Alameda, and the other cities of the county. The mayors of the cities will be asked to ride in the parade, and the National Guardsmen of the other cities will be asked to join with the Oakland forces. The other cities will also be represented in floats, on committees and in other ways.

"We are going to do the thing right this year," declared President Williams, "and that is why we will have to begin early. We will get every city in the county with us and hold what will be the biggest celebration in history. It will draw thousands from the all parts of the bay region to Oakland and will add to the city's fame."

Committees will be appointed next Tuesday night to draw up the preliminary plans for the celebration and to pick special features to be worked up for the holiday.

In preparation for the election to take place on the second Tuesday in April a list of candidates for the directorate of the Exchange was turned in last night by the nominating committee. The list contains the names of seven men new in the work of the Exchange.

"The Exchange needs new blood and live, fighting men on the directorate," said President Williams in explaining the departure from the usual custom in the Exchange's nominations. "Big things are in store, and we need some young men to bear the brunt of the work."

NOMINATIONS. The nominations for directors turned in are as follows: L. B. Bonaguidi, H. C. Coward, F. B. Cowie, H. E. Cornell, T. Dorgan, J. C. Downey, L. H. Davidson, William Ellis, H. N. Gard, Theodore Gier, W. F. Hook, A. Jones, F. S. Lewis, L. Mott, E. F. Muller, M. B. Morrison, E. O. Meyers, R. Robertson, A. H. Schneider, F. W. Sharkey, C. J. Sobel, W. J. Sears, C. H. J. Truman, E. L. Vander Nalven, H. G. Williams, E. A. Young, L. Aber.

HONORARY DIRECTORS. George W. Arner, D. Crowley, Fred Sinclair, F. G. Elben, Wilber Walker, H. M. Sanborn, G. Thayer, H. C. Williams, and J. C. Williams, according to Chairman E. F. Muller of the nominating committee, this rule declaring vacant the seats of directors who miss four consecutive meetings without excuse will be enforced.

The puzzle of Oakland's garbage situation was heard at length, but the final report of the Exchange to the city was deferred another week. Several manufacturers spoke on their products and their machines. J. B. Gross appeared, asking an endorsement for the city's Band concert, which was referred to the president and secretary.

MARDI GRAS ENTICES BELLES AND BEAUS OF SOCIETY WHIRL

COLORFUL DREAM GARDEN OF TROPICAL CHARM SET FOR REVELS

A dream garden come true is what they say of the Mardi Gras at the Palace last night. The most beautiful ball ever given in San Francisco, according to the oldest inhabitant of society who has been to them all.

It was an artist's fantasy in moonlight, and Edgar Walker, the artist who dreamed it and planned the pageant, was there as a gardener with his rake and hoe. He followed the lotus queen and her court to the throne set beneath a midnight blue canopy gleaming with stars. In his homely garb he was a figure materialized from a dream garden of fantasy.

An hour before the entrance of the court the ballroom was filled with revelers. A gay, flashing crowd of a thousand colors. Everyone masked, of course. Brilliant green parrots, canary birds, loads, here and there a monkey, bluebirds, moths, fireflies, morning glories, roses and flaming poppies. And among all these garden creatures and flowers, harem beauties, Pierrots and Pierrettes, Folies, Turkish princesses, Oriental slaves, Watteau ladies, and Chinese mandarins, visitors to the garden.

A BEAUTIFUL VISION. The oldest inhabitant was undoubtedly right. No lovelier ball could have been given, and with the masses of fragrant flowers festooned among the marble columns, and drooping from "real" trees that were grouped about the throne, it was only possible for a California Mardi Gras. Palms and bay trees twined with flowers, were everywhere, their branches twined with flowers, and for background were massed huckleberry and acacia branches in blossom.

The boxes were a double tier about the ballroom and were filled with gay parties. The older set dispersed with masks, but there were many revelers in costume who left their places in the boxes after the pageant.

This was set for 10 o'clock, but it was a half hour later when Mrs. Templeton Crocker, as the Lotus Queen appeared. She was a queen out of fairyland in pale dawn pink flower petals that curved upward over her skirt from a bell shaped blossom cap of silver cloth that was close about her ankles. Over the silver were clustered tiny buds and flowers. Her bodice was of the united petals from which depended glittering ropes of dew drops and her crown was of the upturned petals, sparkling with dew. A long stemmed lotus flower of gold was her wand. Two little pages who carried the queen's train, of silver cloth, were Miss Gertrude Murphy, daughter of Mrs. Eugene Murphy and Miss Francesa Deering, daughter of the Frank Deering. They represented lady bugs.

MANY AS FLOWERS. The queen, with the king, Stanford Gwin, an iridescent dragonfly in green and gold, were followed by their ladies in waiting and courtiers. Mrs. Talbot Walker as a nasturtium, Miss Marlin Zelle as a jonquil, Mrs. Arthur Chesbrough as a snowball, Miss Marian Newhall, a daisy; Mrs. Cheever Gould as a rambler rose, Mrs. Rudolph Schilling as a

Local Firm Solves Eyeglass Problem

Recent Invention Makes Two Pairs of Glasses Unnecessary.

A progressive San Francisco optical firm was the first on the Pacific Coast to recognize the wonderful possibilities of the recently invented "Caltex Onepiece" Bifocals. These lenses serve the purpose of two pairs of glasses, for both reading and distance glasses are combined in one single, solid piece of glass. There is no noticeable dividing line between the reading and distance portions, and they can be worn with ease and pleasure by all people who desire and need glasses for both reading and distance. "Caltex Onepiece" Bifocals are ground only at California Optical Company's three establishments, 1221 Broadway, Oakland, and 181 Post St., and 2508 Mission St., San Francisco.—Adv.

SAVE BABY FROM THOSE WHO LOVE IT

Grandma, Neighbors, and Even Dad Are Dangerous

Welfare Exhibit Shows Ways to Protect Toddlers

Babies have their "hold-overs" as well as the grownups who are responsible for them, visitors to the Baby Welfare Week exhibit at the clinic room of the Baby hospital at Fifty-first and Dover streets are being told today by those in charge of the educational campaign on this side of the bay.

Yes, the teachers who are striving to help the generation to higher levels of health and happiness point out, the grownups unwittingly contribute much to make life dark and troublous for a little fellow whose sole aim in this world is to consume milk, invent language, sleep and make progress. The grandmothers, the fathers, visiting relatives, and those strange things, affectionate neighbors, are the ones warned against.

All of these persons, it is pointed out, are notorious for non-observance of the doctor's and the nurse's. Dr. Stanley Porter, of Stanford University, who has written on "The People About the Baby," points out that grandmothers are bad for infantile health, so far as carrying out of doctors' and nurses' orders are concerned, because these things weren't done, you know, in grandmothers' day. Father, he points out, causes trouble because he wants to give his hope a "chance."

DAD IS DANGEROUS.

By "chance" he means picking the child up out of its crib when he returns home from his work and a jiggling it on his knee or gently throwing it at the ceiling, catching it deftly in the stomach or by one leg on the infant comes by on the returning trip. Needless to say, the baby's disposition in the crib about its direction and its nerves. Thus comes the infantile hold-over so common among the fathers of the new generation.

Just how these things affect infants is being demonstrated in the clinic room exhibit at the Baby hospital. Here a system of charts and photographs are on view and are explained in minute detail by a trained demonstrator. An expert nurse is also on hand, her sole duty being to answer questions which may be asked.

The exhibit is attracting large crowds from all of the east bay cities. It is made up of charts and other demonstration devices which were a portion of the baby welfare exhibit in the Education Palace at the Exposition. Next week this exhibit is to be started out on a trip about the county. Before returning to its starting point the exhibit is to be lectured upon in every community that mothers may learn what is best for their offspring.

HOW TO BATHE BABY.

Here are some scientific instructions which have been given out by the welfare campaigner agent the proper manner to give a baby a bath: "The first thing to be considered is the room in which the baby is bathed; it must be warm."

"Then everything must be placed in readiness within easy reach of the mother or nurse so that time will not be wasted in making separate trips to all parts of the house for them."

"Use plain toilet soap; not the perfumed and colored kind."

"Soak water if possible."

"While bathing the baby the mother or nurse should sit on a low chair and put the bath tub on a box or small table so that it will be on a level with her lap."

"Have a pitcher of hot water handy."

"Bathe first the child's eyes and then his face before removing the clothing."

"Apply soap to the wash cloth and then rub the child's scalp. Turn the baby around so that his head will be over the tub. Rub the soap off in the tub."

"Dry the head carefully and be even more particular in drying the baby's head behind the ears. If that portion of the head is left damp it will result in soreness."

"Remove the clothing from the body."

"See that the water in the tub is of the right temperature. The elbow is the best thermometer. If the water is just right for your elbow it is just right for the child's body."

"Soak the cloth and rub quickly over the child's body."

"Rinse the baby in the tub."

"Rinse the water well over the chest. Two minutes is long enough for the child to remain in the tub."

"Take the baby out of the tub quickly and place him on a towel in your lap. Wipe the baby up in the towel with a flannel blanket on the outside."

"Pat the baby's body for a few minutes. Never rub!"

"See that no dampness is left in the creases of the skin."

"Use very little powder."

"A dressing first replace the band, then the shirt and diaper. Cover the child as quick as possible by drawing the petticoat on from the feet up. Take a last look behind the ears to see that there is no dampness."

FREEMONT'S COMRADE DIES. SPOKANE, Wash., March 8.—Anson A. Pike, 98 years old, the last survivor of General John C. Fremont's army of conquest, who saw the Mexican flag hauled down in 1846 at what is now Los Angeles, died at the home of a daughter here. He was born at Seabrook, O., Jan. 1, 1820. He was a stone mason and built the brick and stone school-house at Bloomington, Ill., at the time when Abraham Lincoln was superintendent. Pike shortly before his death said he was the oldest Mason in the world, a life member of Quarry lodge, Pipestone, Minn., where he will be buried.

'Slivers,' Jolliest Clown, Ends Life

Thousands Laughed, Not Seeing Tears

Those who remember the clown who used to play a baseball game all by himself and who played it so well that he was taken from the circus tent and featured as a vaudeville headliner in all parts of the country, will be sorry that "Slivers" is dead. The man who made millions of dollars by being funny, grew tired today of hiding a tragedy. He was found dead, a euthetic from apoplexy, in a theatrical boarding house in New York. "Slivers" real name was Frank Oakley. For years his tall form, garbed in baseball uniform of grotesque pattern, was a laughable and familiar sight on the grass about the sawdust rings of Barnum's circus. He made his play in pantomime to the children and won a national reputation. In Oakland he has been seen in the circus and at the Orpheum.

"Slivers" was 46 years old. He was born in Sweden and for a time after his arrival in the United States was an attorney. His height and character gave him a nickname which he capitalized in his profession. No clown has had more imitators but there was only one Slivers. While he was laughing he hid a sore heart, but nobody knows just what it was that caused him to end it all.

Merry Time Given to Host of Children

With an entertainment given by a number of children, the Oakland Club celebrated the nation's baby week today in Starling Hall. Mrs. John Newton Porter, who was in charge of the affair, was assisted in giving the small guests a merry afternoon, and in receiving by a committee of the members, including: Mrs. A. L. Fick, Mrs. Helen K. Fick, Mrs. Lucien Langworthy, Mrs. J. Langtry, Mrs. C. D. Mercereau, Mrs. John Mole, Mrs. Nellie Nelson, Mrs. John Nicholson, Mrs. A. C. Pelray, Mrs. George Sannels and Mrs. S. J. Silencing with a piano solo by Mrs. Robert Louis Hill, was composed of dances, songs and instrumental solos, one of the most elaborate being a chorus of "Jookies" given by ten little girls. These were:

Among the dances were a "Lovers' Quorum" ballet by Regina Helen Murphy, Denise Tolan and Adrienne Tolan; a garden dance by Florence Tyrrell and a waltz dance by Helen Hall. Little Oliver Hyde gave a Charlie Chaplin section and took part in a "So Long, Letty" number with Miss Anna Kohler; Sedley Nelson was a newboy and Miss Evelyn Van Valkenburg appeared as "Sunbonnet Sue." Florence Tyrrell and Elvira Silva contributed piano solos.

MARE ISLAND CANNOT FIND NEW CAPTAIN

Navy Department Seeks for Commandant Vainly

And Until One Is Found, Bennett Must Remain

Reorganization of the navy department to meet changed conditions of increase in equipment and staffs will mean that the perplexing question as to a successor to Frank M. Bennett, commandant of Mare Island Navy Yard, must continue for some time at least unsolved. Bennett is due to stay at Mare Island until his successor is appointed, and, so far, the United States has had a hard time discovering a man capable of taking the place who would do so. Captain Hugh Rodman, stationed at Panama, was offered the post and it was thought the matter was settled several months ago. But Captain Rodman did not wish to be changed and exerted enough influence to have his own way.

Of late it has been thought that Captain Ashley H. Robertson, commandant of the cruiser San Diego, in the Pacific fleet, was to assume the post. Word comes to Mare Island today that Captain Robertson will leave the San Diego early in April for Washington, where he is to be assigned duty as a member of the Navy War College.

In the meantime Commandant Bennett is waiting for the next eligible man to be discovered and is holding the post until the appointee takes actual charge. He will be transferred to another yard.

STOP! CALOMEL IS QUICKSILVER

It's Mercury! Attacks the Bones, Salivates and Makes You Sick.

There's no reason why a person should take calomel. Calomel is a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tonic instead and you will wake up feeling great. No more ill-humors, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tonic acts better than horrible calomel your money is waiting for you.—Advertisement.

Tower of Jewels May Glitter Over San Jose

SAN JOSE, March 8.—"Bring the Tower of Jewels to San Jose," is the slogan of a number of public-spirited citizens who have started a campaign to raise a fund for the purchase of the exposition monument and its transportation to this city.

CLEVELAND, March 8.—Newton D. Baker left today for Washington, where tomorrow he will take the oath of office and enter upon his duties as Secretary of War. To some of his friends Mr. Baker said jokingly, "I shall have a great deal to learn. As a boy I never even played with tin soldiers."

WHO CAN DOUBT SWORN TESTIMONY OF HONEST CITIZENS?

SEVERE KIDNEY TROUBLES YIELD TO POPULAR REMEDY

For nearly nine years I was a great sufferer from what my doctor said was kidney trouble and my blood was out of order; enduring all that time excruciating pain in my back and across my bowels. I was drawn down so that I could only walk with my hands on my knees. My doctor said he could do nothing for me. I tried many kinds of medicine but all to no avail. A friend told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and I heard it had tried everything else that I heard of, I bought a bottle of Swamp-Root and it did wonders for me. I prize it higher than any other medicine and I shall recommend it to my friends. I wish to add right here that after using Swamp-Root for two months I began to straighten up and am now sound and well, and feel like I might live a long time yet to tell what your medicine has done for me.

Some time ago I was taken with kidney trouble which ranged me to and fro, and I could not sleep from the dreadful pains that would come over me, from my kidneys. I was treated by a physician for about three months. He could not help me so finally he prescribed Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. I started taking the first bottle I began to eat and sleep better than I had in a long time. I continued to take same until I was entirely cured and took on considerable weight.

I am now back working at my trade and never felt better in my life. I appreciate what Swamp-Root has done for me and will recommend it to anyone who suffers with their kidneys. When physicians fail to give relief and then prescribe Swamp-Root, they sure know of its merits. I am,

Very truly yours,

Bluebird Bureau

Department of Good-Fellowship

Every day children come to the Blue Bird Bureau asking for clothing. All children like to look neat. It makes them feel happy and gives them new confidence to appear as well as their schoolmates. They do not like to go to school unless they look presentable. For every child out of school the city loses a state and county appropriation of 20 cents a day. If you have any clothes which your own children have outgrown, please Oakland 7285 and someone will call for them. Adults' clothing will be accepted at same number. For all other information pertaining to the work of this bureau ring up Lakeside 6000.

A little woman who is rather short on clothes and other necessities for clothing wishes she had a trunk. In all her life she has never possessed such a necessity and never before has she felt the need of one. But when her family has increased, it is a different story. She hasn't a thing to put those clothes in that she is not in daily need of, and she has been wondering what she could do to all the want until she read the Blue Bird's column and like a flash came the idea to her to appeal to the Good Fellows. Maybe someone has an old trunk that he no longer has any use for, and by placing it at her disposal she can bring happiness to the little woman.

Sewing machines are very much in demand. It seems. First, it was a little woman with several children whom we tried to secure one for. It takes so much of her precious time to mend the clothes for all those youngsters by hand. So far, we are sorry to say, no one has come to the rescue. Now it is an elderly woman who has to make a living for herself and a small grandchild, who would be so glad if she could get a machine and an opportunity to make a few dollars with sewing. She is no longer strong enough to go housecleaning and do washing for others. She believes she would not have much trouble to get customers provided she had a machine. But sewing by hand is too slow work and very few people are willing and able to pay the prices that can and should be demanded for hand-made garments. Big bundles of clothing have come in during the week, to be distributed at the Harrison school next Friday afternoon, and daily children and parents come to the Blue Bird Bureau asking for clothes and shoes and are very anxious that will give them the privilege to go up to the big room in the school where the clothes are spread out on racks and the shoes placed on shelves. Each week quite a lot of sewing and mending and altering has to be done, so we are always glad to see women Good Fellows arrive on Thursdays and Fridays—especially on Fridays, when the women and children come for the distribution to give a couple of hours of their time. There is a good sewing machine and also a table to do the cutting on, and these afternoons can be made quite enjoyable and pleasant. Some of the Good Fellows have been coming to the Harrison school and enjoy the work and the happy faces of the children at sight of all those nice, good clothes and the shoes and hats and toys.

Who can give a home to a 15-year-old boy? His father has been dead for years, his mother is an invalid and unable to take care of him, so for the last three years he has been staying with a man of three score and ten. However, this man is getting too feeble to give him all the guidance a growing boy needs. It would not be so hard for the young fellow to find a job and somewhere a place to board, but his mother prefers a home for him where there is someone to look after him. He is a good boy, to be sure, but at the age when lack of supervision will affect in undesirable ways the rest of his life. He himself is anxious to go to the country. Maybe some farmer is glad to give a place in his home to just such a boy and make him happy and useful.

CORRESPONDENCE
G. Your letter in regard to the old lady received. We are endeavoring to find some one who can take her to the place you mention.

MISS HOFFMANN WON FAME BY WORK

Clever Dancer Put Inventive Genius into Stage Labor.

Miss Gertrude Hoffmann is one of the shrewdest business women on the stage. From the ranks of the chorus she has risen to the headliner's position. This is now she did it.

Ambitious to go on the stage she sought and obtained a position with the Tivoli Opera Company in San Francisco, her native city.

As a chorus girl she demonstrated that she had an unusually agile body, and her movements were far more graceful than those of the other members in the chorus. The manager and the director of the company noted them, and she had a chance to appear in the "spot light" in a serpentine dance.

She "made good" and the critics spoke well of her. With that start and her nimble body she was the star of the show. She has been in the novel sort—new to the stage—and novelty is the thing that promoted vaudeville.

INVENTS OWN DANCE

Of late years she has presented dances entirely of her own invention, so distinctly unique that no others have tried to follow her.

As she made her way to the top no detail of the business escaped her. Few managers of road companies compare with her when it comes to the selection of the right person for the right place and keeping in perfect harmony the company of sixty persons.

With this business instinct she made plans to provide for a rainy day, which a fall might bring at any time. She is said to be now one of the richest women on the American stage. She certainly is one of the wealthiest vaudeville performers who have several years to go before she passes from the sunny side of thirty.

She has been especially lucky in her investments. She holds real estate in thirty states of the union. She also owns three seaside bath houses at Coney Island, the beautiful home at Sea Gate, Long Island, New York, and another at San Francisco.

Miss Hoffmann is a woman of slight build. She weighs less than one hundred and fifteen pounds. Even when on her summer vacation she has regular hours for practice. This is to retain her grace and agility.

A HORSEWOMAN

When Gertrude Hoffmann, astride a beautiful thoroughbred horse moped into an Oakland street car this morning, in front of the Saddle Rock Cafe, the famous dancer gave an exhibition of horsemanship and presence of mind that thrilled the crowd.

Gertrude Hoffmann has a quick thinking brain. When the street car struck her thoroughbred she was out of the saddle in about one-fifth of a second for the horse to the horse and the movement of the animal was like the pressure on an electric button in Gertrude Hoffmann's mind. She responded instantly and she saved herself and her horse from more serious injury. A big crowd quickly gathered to the scene and became bigger still when it was noted about that Gertrude Hoffmann was the heroine of the incident.

Miss Hoffmann smiled when congratulated upon her quick wit but pleasantly disclaimed any notion of heroism in the matter. That is Gertrude Hoffmann's way.

Miss Hoffmann is the girl who has done big things for ten years, up after another and done them with so little ostentation that few have realized what a tremendous dynamo is found in her soul and brain.

Her tremendous success with "Samuray" which is drawing throngs to the Oakland Orpheum this week, with its Irish Oriental splendor is but one of many instances of her mastery of stage craft.

Citizen for 73 Years Is Barred From Voting

EUGENE, Ore., March 8.—"Do you realize, young man, that I have voted in every presidential election since Lincoln was a candidate for office? Do you realize that I have served as a soldier through the Civil war and that it will be almost impossible for me to find my father's naturalization papers?"

With this statement William Dorward, age 73, and a veteran of the Civil war, replied to the county clerk when informed that he could not register because he was born in England, coming to this country as a boy and claiming naturalization under his father's papers, which have long been lost. The statute enacted by the last legislature requiring proof of citizenship, bars him from voting.

"STOP THIEF" WILL BE GIVEN AT ST. MARY'S

MISS CATHERINE TOWNS

Final rehearsals for "Stop Thief," the three-act farcical farce to be presented by The Sheridan Players at St. Mary's College gymnasium March 15, are now under way under the direction of Louis Polan LePore of the English department of St. Mary's. The comedy "Stop Thief" is one continuous laugh and abounds in situations that are melodramatic one moment and comic the next.

For the cast the directors of The Sheridan Players have chosen the best of amateur talent in the bay cities. The play affords splendid opportunities for character acting and nothing that might add to the presentation of the farce has been left undone. Special scenery has been secured for the play and especial attention is being paid to the musical and incidental numbers.

One of the most amusing incidents in "Stop Thief" is centered around the wedding of James Clumey, the English bridegroom, and Midge Carr, the bride. The part of Clumey will be played by Leo A. Cunningham of the Leeland club, while the role of the bride will be filled by Miss Margaret McNally. Miss McNally has taken part in several local amateur theatricals, playing Queen Mary in the recent production of The Saint Cecilia Dramatic Club, "The Princess of Meath."

Among the patronesses for the affair are: Mrs. R. H. Hammond, Mrs. J. Kelly, Mrs. A. Chandler, Mrs. Sweeney and Mrs. Towns.

The hen is a good layer and produces four or five eggs a week. Henderson plans to set some of the eggs next spring and is hoping to produce a new kind of chicken from them.
